

About James Haring

James Haring begins his first season as an assistant coach for Radford after being hired on May 13, 2021.

Haring spent time with the Dayton men's hoops staff as Director of Basketball Operations in July, 2019. Haring joined to the Flyer staff from Jacksonville State where he was Coordinator of Basketball Operations since 2017.

Prior to his stints at UD and JSU, Haring spent the 2016-17 season at the University of Illinois as head coach John Groce's director of basketball operations. He also served two seasons as a graduate assistant with the Fighting Illini.

Haring is a summa cum laude graduate of West Virginia University where he was a four-year team manager for Bob Huggins' Mountaineer basketball program. Haring was head manager as a senior.

A native of New Lenox, Illinois, Haring earned his bachelor's degree in sport management from West Virginia in 2014 and his master's degree in educational policy studies from Illinois in 2016